A RASH ACT.

Don't commit suicide until the day after tomorrow. Beware of desperate deeds. The darkest night is followed by the brightest morning. Many a suicide would be still living had he waited a day or two. Don't lose hope. The word despair is in the dictionary but should be banished from your vocabulary.

If you have a cough or cold or disease of the lungs, use Pisto's Cure faithfully and study carefully the important directions that accompany each bottle. A strict adherence to these directions, combined with a regular use of Pisto's Cure have restored many afflicted persons to health.

Read the following sworn testimony:
In 1887 I commenced coughing, which continued until, when I got up in the morning I spit blood in considerable quantities. I consulted several physicians, but they said that there was nothing wrong with my lungs. I was told to use cod liver oil, but I did not like it. I was then told to use Pisto's Cure. I bought a bottle of Pisto's Cure. I used it faithfully. In October, 1887, I weighed 115 pounds. In December, 1887, I weighed 165 pounds, and at the present time I weigh 185 pounds and am in perfect health.

STRUCK BY LIGHTNING

Orrin Rowe of Kirkpatrick the Victim.

RENDERED UNCONSCIOUS

Soon Revives and Lives to Tell the Story.

Physicians Upon Examining His Wounds Declare Burns were Caused by a Bolt of Lightning

Orrin Rowe, aged twenty, a young business man of Kirkpatrick, is probably the only man living in the county that can say and prove his statements that he was struck by lightning and he lives to tell the thrilling tale.

Rowe is engaged in business with his father, C. A. Rowe, who conducts a general provision store. He left the store Wednesday night at 6 o'clock to go home for his supper. He had scarcely left the store when a heavy thunder storm broke and an instant later a ball of fire surrounded him and he felt as though somebody had hit him a terrible jolt on the head with a board.

Rowe says that he was rendered unconscious for a short time, but in a few minutes revived and was able to walk home. When he reached there, he felt a stinging sensation on his right shoulder, and upon examination it was disclosed that the flesh for about four inches in width had been scorched and burned. A physician was called who upon careful examination, declared that undoubtedly he had been struck by a light bolt of lightning. Thursday young Rowe was able to be about and outside of a very sore shoulder, is seemingly none the worse for his narrow escape.

Tricks of the Grogger.
"The man is a grogger," said the food inspector. "He makes whisky out of old barrels."

"Grogging is a recognized trade in some stunts. You get hold of old whisky barrels wherein spirits have been maturing for years and you pour into these barrels boiling hot water and you wait a few days."

"The result of your waiting is that the hot water turns to whisky. The wood of the old barrels, you see, is saturated with spirits that the hot water draws out enough to make a strong grade of red eye."

VOLLEY BALL PLAYERS

Held Forth at Y. M. C. A. Gym. Last Night.

Everything in Readiness for the Third and Final Gym. Contest to be Held This Evening

Tomorrow night in the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium, there'll be a game of basket ball. Not a slow uninteresting practice game but a real bonified, roughfied, punched-out contest between a five hailing team Mansfield and the local high school team.

The game is to be called at 8 o'clock and when the shriek of the referee's tin horn is sounded, every seat that can possibly be rowded in the narrow galleries should be occupied by at least two. The high school team is deserving of support and a large crowd should be in attendance.

Mansfield defeated the local five it Mansfield but they'll have an entirely different proposition to master tomorrow night. It's on the same floor, that the local lads get in their speedy, mystifying work. Everybody will be welcome and only two-bits is necessary in making terms with the door man.

The Masons defeated the independents in the first and second games out of a series of three, held on the Y. M. C. A. bowling alleys last night. Sensational scores were conspicuous by their absence.

You, who like your thrills served up in the good, old romantic style, will be sure to get them in "La Belle Russe," David Belasco's greatest play, which Mr. Maurice Franklin and a competent company will present at the Grand Opera House on next Tuesday evening. Even the gallery gods enthuse, "it is said, at the startling situations and exciting climaxes. It is romantic to the very back bone, though the title

It Made a Difference.

"Well, gentlemen, what can I do for you to-day?" queried the colonel as he entered his office after a brief absence and found three farmer-looking men in possession.

"We are a committee from the county fair," explained one, "and we want to see about the address. You make 'em, don't you?"

"O, certainly."

"What's your finger?"

"I delivered two country fair addresses last fall and received $55 each."

"Too high."

"There was no fault found with my prices last year. It takes time to prepare one, you know, and then I must journey down and deliver it. The figures I named is a very reasonable one."

"Look here, colonel," said the chairman of the committee after considering a bit, "have you got one of your own addresses on hand?"

"I believe so."

"And can't you put 'er in for $25?"

"But some one might get on to it."

"We'll take all the chances of that. All the people who will listen to you will be old Mrs. Casey, who is deaf as a post, and old Jim Shaw, who will take it for Fourth of July oration, anyhow, and you won't run the slightest risk. Won't this make a difference in your fingers?"

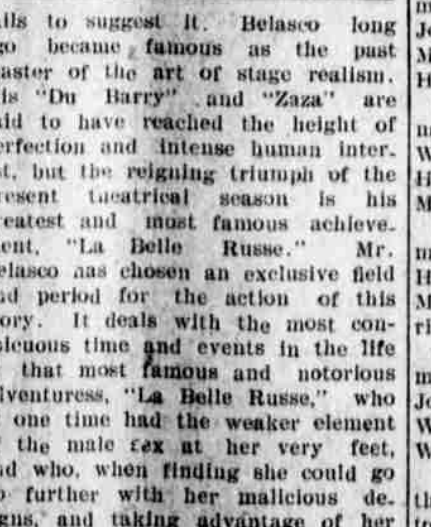

The colonel blushed and stammered and said he thought it would and when the committee left they had his receipt for $30 and he agreed to be so time.

falls to suggest it. Belasco long ago became famous as the past master of the art of stage realism. His "Dr. Barry" and "Zaza" are said to have reached the height of perfection and intense human interest, but the reigning triumph of the present theatrical season is his greatest and most famous achievement, "La Belle Russe." Mr. Belasco has chosen an exclusive field and period for the action of this story. It deals with the most conspicuous time and events in the life of that most famous and notorious adventurer, "La Belle Russe," who at one time had the weaker element of the male sex at her very feet, and who, when finding she could go no further with her malicious designs, and taking advantage of her close resemblance to her twin sister, who had wedded a knighted gentleman of the English nobility, and who had been separated, through accident for ten years, succeeds in convincing him that she is his long looked for wife. Her own husband whom she had cruelly deserted, appears in the person of this Nobleman's very best friend. The clash of these combined forces unravel a tale of love and duty. Mr. Franklin is supported by a very capable company of the Belasco standard, and every detail of the play has been looked after in the same careful way.

MISSIONARY SOCIETIES

Of Presbyterian Church Hold Monthly Session.

OFFICERS ARE CHOSEN

Two Very Interesting Programs are Rendered.

At Close of the Literary and Business Meeting Refreshments were Served in the Basement.

The Home and Foreign Missionary societies of the First Presbyterian church met in regular monthly session in the Sunday School room of the church Wednesday afternoon. The attendance was exceedingly large and a highly interesting meeting resulted.

The Foreign society met at 2:30 o'clock. In the absence of the president, Miss Pauline Hummer, Mrs. S. E. Barlow filled the chair. The program opened with a song, "The King's Business." Mrs. Barlow conducted short devotional exercises and another hymn was sung.

The foreign topic was "Africa," and the leader, Mrs. Margaret Leonard opened the discussion with a paper on the three important events of the year in missionary developments of that country. She spoke of the schools as the particular object of improvement and described the advance in industrial lines.

A paper of high literary consequence was one read by Miss Mary Frye. Her subject was "A West African Village," and she pictured in a vivid way the modes and customs of a typical African town. "A New Era at Loidorf," was the subject of a carefully prepared paper by Mrs. W. M. Jackson. Mrs. G. M. Rourke talked on "Africa Missions and the Liquor Traffic."

After the secretary and treasurer's reports, the program of the Foreign society closed with a paper by Mrs. Barlow on "Missionary Movements Among the Layman."

Immediately at the conclusion of the Foreign Society's program, the Home Society went into session. The topic of the program was "The Evangelization of America," and the leader Mrs. G. F. Carl.

Devotional exercises were conducted by Mrs. George Wright. The opening paper was given by Mrs. J. B. Hume on the theme, "Personal Presentation." It was followed by a paper, "The Modern Man in Religion," by Miss Nancy Lewis. Mrs. U. S. Seffner talked on "The National Christian Standard" after which the program closed with a delightful vocal selection by Mrs. W. N. Harder. She was accompanied by Mrs. W. L. Warner.

At the conclusion of the program, the society adjourned into a business session and a great deal of important business was considered. A committee was appointed to purchase some new dishes as it has become necessary for the society to increase its serving capacity when giving church suppers.

The nominating committee, appointed a month ago, submitted its report, naming the officers of the society for the ensuing year. The report was adopted and the following officers were named:

Mrs. Charles Phelps, president; Mrs. Jonas Conklin, secretary; Mrs. W. C. Butcher, treasurer and Mrs. S. E. DeWolfe, secretary of literature.

The vice presidents of the various classes were named as follows: Class A—Mrs. J. M. Davidson (chairman), Mrs. John Garberson, Mrs. Jose Christian, Mrs. Charles Felty, Mrs. Benjamin Belber and Mrs. J. Holverstott.

Class B—Mrs. J. B. Hume (chairman), Mrs. W. J. Oberlin; Mrs. W. H. Haberman, Mrs. L. D. Hamilton, Mrs. W. M. Jackson and Mrs. Carrie Owen.

Class C—Mrs. U. S. Seffner (chairman), Mrs. Fred Schaffer, Mrs. John Turner, Mrs. L. Schrote, Mrs. W. B. Foye and Mrs. Benjamin Waples.

Immediately at the conclusion of the business, the society adjourned to the basement of the church, where

"When the contribution box was passed the worshiper sitting next to me put in a coin, and immediately took from his pockets a notebook and a pencil and made a memorandum of the amount, which I could not help seeing without turning my head around, as it was done right under my eyes. His cash account will foot up all right."
